

Appendix 03 PDCA Cycle

GAC's quality management is intended to meaningfully link GAC's existing goals, concepts, and processes through a quality cycle, thereby providing impetus for sustainable further development. The quality cycle is based on a continuous, cyclical process that is widely recognized in the context of quality management concepts: the PDCA cycle (Plan-Do-Check-Act) as defined by Walter Deming.

