MRVO	Regulation Governing the Details of Program Accreditation in the Free and Hanseatic City of Hamburg (Study Program Accreditation Regulation—StudakkVO) Downloaded on November 12, 2025, from: https://www.landesrecht-hamburg.de/bsha/document/jlr-HSchulQSAkkrVHArahmen	Assessment of the Deviation in the State Ordinance from the MRVO
Part 1 General Provisions	Part 1 General Provisions
§ 1 Scope of Application	§ 1 Scope of Application
(1) This ordinance, based on Article 4 of the State Treaty on the Organization of a Joint Accreditation System for Quality Assurance in Studies and Teaching at German Universities (State Treaty on Study Accreditation; GVBl.) sets forth the details regarding the formal criteria under Article 2, paragraph 2; the subject-specific and content-related criteria under Article 2, paragraph 3; and the procedure under Article 3 of the State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation.	(1) This regulation, based on Article 4 of the ~~State Treaty on the Organization of a Joint Accreditation System for Quality Assurance in Academic Studies and Teaching at German Universities (State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation; GVBl.)~~ of the State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation, sets forth the details regarding the formal criteria under Article 2(2), the subject-specific and content-related criteria under Article 2(3), and the procedure under Article 3 of the State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation. These criteria apply to the extent that quality assurance is carried out in accordance with the procedure set forth in the State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation.	Editorial changes / no deviations.

(2) Unless otherwise specified in this regulation, the following provisions on program accreditation also apply to degree programs at state-run and state-recognized vocational academies that lead to the degree title “Bachelor.” A Bachelor’s degree accredited on the basis of this (model) regulation is equivalent, under higher education law, to a Bachelor’s degree from a university.	(2) Unless otherwise specified in this regulation, the following provisions on program accreditation also apply to degree programs at state-run and state-recognized vocational academies that lead to the degree title “Bachelor.” A Bachelor’s degree accredited on the basis of this ~~(model)~~ regulation is equivalent under higher education law to a Bachelor’s degree from a university.	Editorial changes / no deviations.
§ 2 Forms of Accreditation	§ 2 Forms of Accreditation
Forms of accreditation include the procedures set forth in Article 3(1)(1) of the State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation (system accreditation), in Article 3(1)(2) (program accreditation), or alternative accreditation procedures under Article 3(1)(3).	Forms of accreditation include the procedures set forth in Article 3(1)(1) of ~~the State Treaty on Study Accreditation~~ (system accreditation), in Article 3(1)(2) (program accreditation), or alternative accreditation procedures pursuant to Article 3(1)(3) of the State Treaty on Study Accreditation.	Editorial changes / no deviations.
Part 2: Formal Criteria for Degree Programs	Part 2: Formal Criteria for Degree Programs
§ 3 Program Structure and Duration, Recognition, and Credit Transfer	§ 3 Program Structure and Duration, Recognition, and Credit Transfer

(1) In the system of tiered degree programs, the bachelor's degree is the first standard degree conferring professional qualifications in a higher education program; the master's degree constitutes a further higher education degree conferring professional qualifications. Undergraduate degree programs that lead directly to a master's degree are excluded, with the exception of the degree programs specified in paragraph 3.	(1) In the system of tiered degree programs, the bachelor's degree is the first standard degree conferring professional qualifications in a higher education program; the master's degree constitutes a further higher education degree conferring professional qualifications. Undergraduate degree programs that lead directly to a master's degree are excluded, with the exception of the degree programs specified in paragraph 3.	Editorial changes / no deviations.

(2) The standard periods of study for full-time study are six, seven, or eight semesters for bachelor's degree programs and four, three, or two semesters for master's degree programs. For bachelor's degree programs, the standard period of study for full-time study is at least three years. For consecutive degree programs, the total standard period of study for full-time study is five years (ten semesters). If state law so provides, shorter or longer standard periods of study are exceptionally possible, subject to appropriate organizational arrangements, in order to enable students to pursue an individualized learning path, particularly through part-time, distance, part-time while working, or dual study programs, as well as semesters of professional practice. Notwithstanding the third sentence, in the core artistic disciplines at colleges of art and music, consecutive bachelor's and master's degree programs may also be established with a standard period of study of six years, subject to further provisions of state law.	(2) The standard periods of study for full-time study are six, seven, or eight semesters for bachelor's degree programs and four, three, or two semesters for master's degree programs. For bachelor's degree programs, the standard period of study for full-time study is at least three years. For consecutive degree programs, the total standard period of study for full-time study is five years (ten semesters). Longer standard periods of study are permitted in accordance with § 54(5) of the Hamburg Higher Education Act (HmbHG) of July 18, 2001 (HmbGVBl.~~,~~ p. 171), last amended on May 29, 2018 (HmbGVBl. p. 200), as amended from time to time, are exceptionally possible subject to appropriate organizational arrangements for the program, in order to enable students to pursue an individualized learning path, in particular through part-time, distance, part-time while working, or dual study programs, as well as semesters of professional practice. Notwithstanding the third sentence, in the core artistic disciplines at art and music colleges, consecutive bachelor's and master's degree programs may also be established with a total standard period of study of six years, subject to further provisions of state law.	Making use of the flexibility provided by the MRVO in state law.
(3) Theological degree programs that qualify students for the office of pastor, the priesthood, or the profession of pastoral assistant ("full theological degree program") need not be divided into levels and may have a standard period of study of ten semesters.	(3) Theological degree programs that qualify students for the office of pastor, the priesthood, or the profession of pastoral assistant ("full theological degree program") need not be divided into levels and may have a standard period of study of ten semesters.	Editorial changes / no deviations.

(4) The institution implements the national and state legal regulations regarding the recognition of competencies, qualifications, and academic achievements earned at a higher education institution, as well as the transfer of competencies and qualifications acquired outside of higher education institutions.	(4) The institution implements the national and state legal regulations regarding the recognition of competencies, qualifications, and academic achievements earned at a higher education institution, as well as the transfer of competencies and qualifications acquired outside of higher education institutions.	Editorial changes / no deviations.
§ 4 Program Profiles	§ 4 Program Profiles
(1) Master's degree programs may be "application-oriented" or "research-oriented" profiles. Master's degree programs at colleges of art and music may have a special artistic profile. Master's degree programs that provide the educational prerequisites for a teaching position have a special teaching-related profile. If the institution specifies a profile, this must be stated in the accreditation.	(1) Master's degree programs can be classified according to "application-oriented" or "research-oriented" profiles. Master's programs at colleges of art and music may have a distinct artistic profile. Master's degree programs that provide the educational requirements for a teaching position have a specific teaching-related profile. If the institution defines a profile, this must be specified in the accreditation.	Editorial changes / no deviations.
(2) When establishing a master's program, it must be specified whether it is a consecutive or a continuing education program. Continuing education master's programs correspond to consecutive master's programs in terms of the standard period of study and the thesis, and lead to the same level of qualification and the same entitlements.	(2) When establishing a master's program, it must be specified whether it is a consecutive or a continuing education program. Continuing education master's programs correspond to consecutive master's programs in terms of the standard period of study and the thesis, and lead to the same level of qualification and the same entitlements.	Editorial changes / no deviations.

(3) Bachelor's and Master's degree programs require a thesis that demonstrates the ability to independently address a problem in the respective field within a specified time frame using scientific or artistic methods. Editorial changes / no deviations.
§ 5 Admission Requirements and Transitions Between Degree Programs	§ 5 Admission Requirements and Transitions Between Degree Programs
(1) The admission requirement for a master's degree program is a first professional degree. For continuing education and artistic master's degree programs, the professional degree may be replaced by an entrance examination, provided that state law so provides. Continuing education Master's programs require at least one year of qualified professional experience; exceptions may be granted to individual students in justified cases. For continuing education and artistic master's programs~~,~~ the professional degree may be replaced by an entrance examination in accordance with § 39(3) HmbHG~~, provided that state law so provides~~. Professional Master's programs require at least one year of qualified professional experience; exceptions may be granted to individual students in justified cases.	Exercising the discretion granted by the MRVO in state law.

(2) As an admission requirement for artistic master's degree programs, proof of the specific artistic aptitude required for such programs must be provided. For admission to professional artistic master's degree programs, professional practical activities completed during the course of study may also be taken into account, provided that state law permits this. The requirement for professional practical experience does not apply at art colleges for programs designed to deepen independent artistic skills, provided that state law provisions so stipulate.	(2) To be admitted to artistic master's degree programs, applicants must demonstrate the specific artistic aptitude required for such programs. ~~For admission to continuing education artistic master's degree programs, professional practical activities completed during the course of study may also be taken into account, provided that state law permits this. The requirement for professional practical experience does not apply at art colleges for programs designed to deepen skills in the fine arts, provided that state law so provides.~~	Utilization of the discretion granted by the MRVO in state law.
(3) Additional requirements for admission to master's degree programs may be established in accordance with state law.	(3) For admission to master's degree programs, additional requirements ~~in accordance with~~ state law may be stipulated in the statutes of the universities pursuant to § 39(1), sentences 3 and 4, and (2), sentence 3, of the Hamburg Higher Education Act (HmbHG).	Utilization of the discretion granted by the MRVO in state law.
§ 6 Degrees and Degree Titles	§ 6 Degrees and Degree Titles
(1) Upon successful completion of a bachelor's or master's degree program, only one degree—either the bachelor's or master's degree—is awarded, unless it is a multiple-degree program. In this context, degrees are not differentiated based on the standard duration of study. § 7 Modularization	§ 7 Modularization
(1) Degree programs shall be structured into study units (modules) that are defined thematically and temporally by grouping together intended learning outcomes and course content. The intended learning outcomes and course content of a module must be structured so that they can generally be covered within a maximum of two consecutive semesters; in exceptionally justified cases, a module may extend beyond two semesters. For the core artistic subject in the bachelor's program, at least two modules are required, which may account for approximately two-thirds of the total study time. § 8 Credit Point System	§ 8 Credit Point System

(1) Each module shall be assigned a specific number of ECTS credits based on the workload required of students. As a rule, 30 credits shall be used as the basis per semester. One credit corresponds to a total student workload of 25 to a maximum of 30 hours of in-class and independent study. ECTS credits are awarded for a module if the student demonstrates the achievements specified in the examination regulations. The awarding of ECTS credits does not necessarily require an examination, but rather the successful completion of the respective module. (2) A minimum of 180 ECTS credits must be earned to receive a bachelor's degree. For the master's degree, 300 ECTS credits are required, taking into account the student's prior studies up to the first professionally qualifying degree. In individual cases, exceptions may be made to this requirement if the student possesses the appropriate qualifications, even if 300 ECTS credits are not attained upon completion of a master's program. For consecutive Bachelor's and Master's degree programs in core artistic disciplines at art and music colleges with a standard duration of six years, the Master's level is achieved with 360 ECTS credits. In Fine Arts programs, in justified exceptional cases, the scope of the Bachelor's thesis may be up to 20 ECTS credits and that of the Master's thesis up to 40 ECTS credits.	Editorial changes / no deviations.

(4) In justified exceptional cases, up to 75 ECTS credits per academic year may be applied for degree programs with special academic organizational measures. In this context, the workload for one ECTS credit is calculated at 30 hours. Special academic organizational measures may relate in particular to the learning environment and supervision, the structure of the program, academic planning, and measures to ensure a livelihood. Editorial changes / no deviations.

(6) At vocational academies, students pursuing a three-year Bachelor's degree program must generally demonstrate 180 ECTS credits. The scope of the theory-based components of the program may not be less than 120 ECTS credits, and the scope of the practice-based components may not be less than 30 ECTS credits.	(6) At vocational academies and institutions offering bachelor's degree programs that integrate training and practical experience, or bachelor's degree tracks that integrate training and practical experience, students must generally earn 180 ECTS credits for a bachelor's degree with a three-year program duration. The scope of the theory-based components of the program may not be less than 120 ECTS credits, and the scope of the practice-based components may not be less than 30 ECTS credits.	Section 8(6) applies not only to vocational academies but also to institutions offering bachelor's degree programs that integrate education and practical training. This should not lead to any problems if the terms "theory-based" and "practice-based" are interpreted flexibly (as also suggested in the explanatory memorandum to § 8 of the Hamburg ordinance—explanatory memorandum to the first version of the ordinance dated December 6, 2018).
Section 9 Special Criteria for Collaborations with Non-Higher-Education Institutions	Section 9 Special Criteria for Collaborations with Non-Higher-Education Institutions
(1) The scope and nature of existing collaborations with companies and other institutions—including non-higher-education learning venues, course components, and the language(s) of instruction—are contractually regulated and described on the university's website. When applying credit transfer models within the framework of program-specific collaborations, the substantive equivalence of non-higher-education qualifications to be transferred and their equivalence to the intended qualification level must be clearly demonstrated. Part 3: Academic and Content-Related Criteria for Degree Programs and Quality Management Systems	Part 3: Academic and Content-Related Criteria for Degree Programs and Quality Management Systems
§ 11 Qualification Objectives and Degree Level	§ 11 Qualification Objectives and Degree Level

(1) The qualification objectives and the intended learning outcomes are clearly formulated, publicly accessible, and demonstrably take into account the objectives of higher education specified in Article 2, paragraph 3, item 1 of the State Treaty on Study Program Accreditation. The dimension of personal development also encompasses the future civic, political, and cultural roles of graduates. Upon graduation, students should be able to play a decisive role in shaping social processes in a critical and reflective manner, with a sense of responsibility and democratic civic spirit. Upon graduation, students should be able to play a decisive role in shaping social processes in a critical and reflective manner, with a sense of responsibility and a commitment to democratic values.	Editorial changes / no deviations.
(2) The subject-specific and academic/artistic requirements encompass the aspects of knowledge and understanding (expansion of knowledge, deepening of knowledge, and comprehension of knowledge), the use, application, and generation of knowledge/art (utilization and transfer, academic innovation), communication and cooperation, as well as academic/artistic self-concept and professionalism, and are consistent with the level of the degree awarded.	(2) The subject-specific and scientific/artistic requirements encompass the aspects of knowledge and understanding (broadening, deepening, and comprehending knowledge), the use, application, and generation of knowledge or art (utilization and transfer, scientific innovation), communication and cooperation, as well as scientific/artistic self-concept and professionalism, and are consistent with the level of the degree awarded.	Editorial changes / no deviations.

(3) Bachelor's degree programs serve to impart scientific foundations, methodological competence, and profession-specific qualifications, and ensure a broad scientific or artistic qualification. Consecutive Master's degree programs are designed as programs that deepen, broaden, or are interdisciplinary or in a different field. Professional Master's degree programs require qualified professional experience of generally no less than one year. The curriculum design of professional master's programs takes professional experience into account and builds upon it to achieve the program's qualification objectives. In designing the program, the institution outlines the relationship between professional qualifications and the academic offerings, as well as the equivalence of requirements compared to consecutive master's programs. Artistic degree programs foster and further develop the ability to create art. Consecutive Master's degree programs are designed as programs that deepen, broaden, or are interdisciplinary or in a different field. Professional Master's degree programs require qualified professional experience of generally no less than one year. The curriculum design of professional master's programs takes professional experience into account and builds upon it to achieve the program's qualification objectives. In designing the program, the institution outlines the relationship between professional qualifications and the academic offerings, as well as the equivalence of requirements compared to consecutive master's programs. Artistic degree programs foster and further develop the ability to create art.	Editorial changes / no deviations.
§ 12 Coherent Program Concept and Adequate Implementation	§ 12 Coherent Program Concept and Adequate Implementation

(1) The curriculum is appropriately structured, taking into account the specified entry requirements and with a view to achieving the program's learning outcomes. The learning outcomes, the program title, the degree and its designation, and the module structure are consistently aligned with one another. The program concept encompasses a diverse range of teaching, learning, and assessment methods adapted to the respective academic culture and program format, as well as practical components where applicable. It creates suitable conditions to promote student mobility, enabling students to spend time at other institutions without losing academic progress. It actively involves students in the design of teaching and learning processes (student-centered teaching and learning) and provides opportunities for students to shape their own course of study. The degree program, course of study, examination requirements, module descriptions, and admission requirements—including provisions for compensating for disadvantages faced by students with disabilities or chronic illnesses—are documented and published. § 17 Concept of the Quality Management System for System-Accredited Institutions of Higher Education (Objectives, Processes, Instruments)	§ 17 Concept of the Quality Management System for System-Accredited Institutions of Higher Education (Objectives, Processes, Instruments)

(1) The institution of higher education has established central educational objectives for teaching, which are reflected in the institution's mission statement and in the curricula of its degree programs. The quality management system adheres to the values and standards of the mission statement for teaching and aims to continuously improve the quality of education. It ensures the systematic implementation of the requirements set forth in Parts 2 and 3. The institution has established and published institution-wide decision-making processes, areas of authority, and responsibilities for the establishment, review, further development, and discontinuation of degree programs, as well as the institution's own procedures for the accreditation of degree programs within the framework of its quality management system. The institution establishes provisions regarding periods of validity and deadlines in accordance with §§ 26 and 27. The institution may specify shorter periods of validity and deadlines. If a quality management system provides for the formation of clusters, § 30(1) shall apply mutatis mutandis with regard to cluster sizes. The university has established and published university-wide decision-making processes, areas of authority, and responsibilities for the establishment, review, further development, and discontinuation of degree programs, as well as the university's own procedures for the accreditation of degree programs within the framework of its quality management system. The university shall adopt provisions regarding periods of validity and deadlines in accordance with §§ 26 and 27. In doing so, the university may specify shorter periods of validity and deadlines. If a quality management system provides for the formation of clusters, § 30(1) shall apply mutatis mutandis with regard to cluster sizes.	The state ordinance clarifies that the QM system must be capable of implementing the requirements specified in Sections 11–15 of Part 2 of the MRVO. This corresponds to the explanations in the explanatory memorandum to Section 17 of the MRVO.

(2) The quality management system was developed with the participation of the university's constituent groups and with the involvement of external experts. It ensures the independence of quality assessments and includes procedures for handling internal conflicts at the university as well as an internal grievance system. It is based on closed-loop control systems, covers all areas of the university's operations that are directly relevant to academic studies and teaching, and is equipped with adequate and sustainable resources. The university regularly reviews and continuously refines the system's functionality and effectiveness with regard to the quality of academic programs. § 37 Entry into Force	§ 37 Entry into Force
	-This regulation takes effect on January 1, 2018.	Naturally, provisions regarding entry into force are found only in the state ordinance, not in the MRVO. However, the version of the state ordinance used as the basis for this comparison refers to the entry into force of the original version of the state ordinance on January 1, 2018. According to Section 2 of the “Regulation Amending the Study Program Accreditation Regulation” dated July 3, 2025, this amending regulation entered into force on August 1, 2025. Transitional Provisions: The version of the state ordinance used as the basis for this comparison does not contain any transitional provisions. However, transitional provisions are contained in Section 2 of the “Regulation Amending the Study Accreditation Regulation” dated July 3, 2025. They read as follows: “(2) In the case of Section 12(5), second sentence, item 4, in which, pursuant to the version of this ordinance in effect as of July 31, 2025, a condition within the meaning of Section 27 is to be imposed, the Accreditation Council, if the available information is insufficient, may require as a condition that the appropriateness of the workload be demonstrated within the framework of the examination concept. (3) For applications submitted by the end of March 31, 2026, § 11(1), first sentence, § 15, and § 30(2) of the Regulation, as in the version in effect on July 31, 2025, shall continue to apply; Section 12(1), sentence 6, and Section 17(1), sentences 5 through 7, shall not apply. For applications submitted on or after April 1, 2026, this Regulation shall apply in the version in effect as of August 1, 2025." These transitional provisions are in line with the recommendations of the Conference of Science Ministers. However, there is a slight discrepancy among the states regarding the end of the transition period. According to this state ordinance, the new state ordinance applies in full to applications submitted on or after April 1, 2026.
